U.S. Nuclear Tests Underway

Explosions Taking Place In Eniwetok

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1958 nuclear tests at Eniwetok in the Pacific are under way.

The Atomic Energy Commission yesterday tersely confirmed that an explosion was set off on April 28. This word from the AEC came after the test was revealed by Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) in a House speech. He returned Tuesday from the scene.

The AEC would not confirm Porter's statement that the explosion was the first of 30 nuclear test explosions scheduled.

Porter revealed the blast in a speech renewing his demand for an end to nuclear testing.

Speech Cleared

He said he did not witness the test but his speech had been cleared by the AEC. Porter said he was not at liberty to disclose the nature of the April 28 experiment.

Porter urged that all such tests be halted or, he said, they will intensify the atomic arms race. He said unauthorized or accidental explosions are inevitable.

A radiation danger area of approximately 400,000 square miles in the Eniwetok and Bikini area has been closed to shipping since mid-April as a prelude to the 1958 nuclear tests.

The AEC and the Defense Department announced originally that the tests will be aimed at advancing development of weapons for defense against airborne enemy. Another purpose, they said, is to further the development of nuclear weapons with reduced fallout.

On May 2, the Defense Department said it soon would test short-range defense missiles with nuclear warheads. It said they would be launched from remote Johnston Island—roughly 1,500 to 1,700 miles northeast of Eniwetok.

President May Take New Tack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strong possibility that President Eisenhower may take a new tack to attain a defense reorganization was raised yesterday by a group backing his plan.

The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, a private organization, said Eisenhower may act by mid-May at the latest to keep his plan from being bogged down and talked to death.

Publication

The group's publication, Reorganization News, said the President might send to Congress a presidential reorganization plan paralleling provisions of the military overhaul bill now before the legislators.

A presidential reorganization plan automatically becomes law 60 days after submission to Congress unless it is rejected by a majority vote of either the House or Senate.

Mission Claims Red Forgery

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. mission in Berlin said yesterday East German Communists obviously forged a report saying 67.3 per cent of the men in the U.S. Strategic Air Command are neurotics.

A formal statement declared a letter printed in the official Communist newspaper Neues Deutschland was filled with "glaring errors in format, fact, usage and grammar." The statement said the letter was the poorest of a long series of East German forgeries.

Newspaperman Dies

SCRANTON (AP) — Thomas Murphy, 79, chief assistant editor of the Scranton Times died yesterday at Mercy Hospital where he had been a patient the last two weeks.

Bangor Board Names Mabus Joint School Representative

BANGOR—Merle Madus, a member of the Bangor Board of Education, a member of the joint school committee, was unanimously elected secretary of the joint school committee and Bangor Board at a meeting last night.

He will fill the unexpired term of Reimer Speer who has resigned, effective July 7.

Madus was chosen out of a field of five applicants. However, it will be necessary for him to stand up for election again on July 7 when the six-district joint goes into operation.

The board elected the following teachers: Edward P. Demansky, of Shenandoah, as art teacher at a salary of $4,100. He is a graduate of Kutztown State Teachers College.

Mrs. Barbara S. Miller as English and social studies teacher at $4,100. She is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Martin J. Mery as a teacher unassigned as a salary of $4,100. He also is a graduate of East Stroudsburg.

Assistant Coaches

The Board also elected three assistant football coaches to aid Head Coach David Pritchard. They were Lewis Guida, Paul Wagner and Edward Demansky.

Dr. Nicholas Cascario, chairman of the joint promotion committee, reported that Walter Sandercock, president of the Pen Argyl Area Joint School Board, has stated "that his board is not interested in any jointure with the Bangor Area and he urged that the matter should not be pursued any further."

Mrs. Mildred Osborne, a mathematics teacher, was granted a sabbatical leave for the 1958-59 school year for reasons of health. The Board named Kenneth Ace as its treasurer.

Series By Judge Rhodes In Congressional Record

"OUR JUDICIAL System," the series of four articles written for The Daily Record by Judge Chester H. Rhodes, president judge of the Pennsylvania Superior Court, is being reprinted in the Congressional Record.

The series was printed locally last week and it attracted the attention of Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) shortly before he departed on a government mission to Geneva, Switzerland.

The Congressman received permission to have the first article reprinted in the May 1 issue of the Congressional Record. The date coincided with the national and state observance of Law Day—USA, which was proclaimed as such as a means to help fight Communism.

The second article was reprinted under date of May 5. It appears on Page A4073, the first article on Page A4014. Rep. Walter received permission to publish the last two articles in subsequent issues of the Congressional Record, which records the proceedings and debates of the 85th Congress, Second Session.

Government Stands Pat On Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration stood pat yesterday on its proposal to extend the reciprocal trade agreements program despite warnings that if President Eisenhower does not compromise he may get no extension at all.

However, the door still seemed open for working out disagreements that have stymied the President's proposal in Congress. The House Ways and Means Committee, which abruptly halted hearings Tuesday, has given Eisenhower until Monday to come up with a solution.

"We didn't come to any agreement on anything," Secretary of Commerce Weeks told reporters after an hour-long meeting in the office of House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

"We're right where we were when we started," Weeks said, adding:

"We sent up a bill we believe in. I told them we sent up a bill on which the administration spent a lot of time, and we still want the bill."

House Leader

Republican House leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, who attended the session, gave newsmen a slightly more conciliatory report.

"The administration is standing on its original bill," he said, "but it doesn't look like we can get the bill through. There might be a compromise, but we don't know." The ways and means committee will resume consideration of the bill Monday after giving Eisenhower a chance to come up with his own compromise.

Employees Back Plan By G. M.

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. said yesterday its belief in the soundness of a savings-stock purchase plan for workers has been confirmed by the overwhelming response of salaried employees.

The same plan was offered GM's 350,000 hourly workers in 1955 contract negotiations but it was rejected by the United Auto Workers.

In a statement reporting on 2½ years operation of the plan among salaried workers, GM President Harlow H. Curtice gave no hint that the plan would be offered again to hourly workers in current bargaining talks with the UAW.

The union, which settled for a layoff pay plan in 1955, has made profit sharing its main goal this year. GM, Chrysler and Ford have rejected the UAW's profit sharing proposal as radical, unrealistic and inflationary.

State Farmers Paid

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Treasurer Robert F. Kent announced yesterday that almost all of some 27,000 Pennsylvania farmers who filed for gasoline tax refunds have been paid.

Helicopter To Cut Ribbon In Official Opening

WEATHER permitting this morning, an Army helicopter will swoop low over Stroudsburg's Main Street and snip the ribbon that will officially launch the fourth annual celebration of "Tobyhanna Days" in the Stroudsburgs.

On hand for the ceremony will be Depot Commander Colonel Clifford A. Poutre; Burgess Ed. Doran, Stroudsburg; Jesse H. Flory, East Stroudsburg, and many other notables.

For the ribbon-cutting the helicopter has been equipped with a specially designed tool. If the rains continue today, Col. Poutre will open the three-day celebration with an ordinary pair of shears.

Doors to the Army exhibits in the twin-boroughs will open at 9 a.m. today and close at 7 p.m. Added to an already imposing list of displays will be the first showing of a scale model of Bear Creek Dam. This exhibit, which is animated, shows normal conditions behind the dam and pool at conservation level. A storm then gathers, with clouds, lightning and rain. The water rises behind the dam to flood stage. In the final phase, the water recedes to conservation level, followed by clearing and calm.

Another display certain to fascinate adults and children alike is a bouncing ball exhibit.

Originally developed to demonstrate in a live, dramatic way, the perfect sphericity and uniformity of ball bearings, the display consists of a slightly concave 12-inch diameter metal plate and bearing balls that bounce continuously and unaided from plate to ceiling and back again.

Other exhibits available to the public today through Saturday will be the General Electric Vulcan, an electronically fired anti-aircraft gun; a missile master demonstrator, a diorama of a purifier operating in radioactively contaminated water, a see-yourself-on-television setup and many others.

One of the Depot's special contributions for the observance this year will be a scale model of a space signal depot as imagined by Joseph O'Connor of the Depot's Storage Division.

This depot, in addition to having standard earthbound features, will also contain the creator's ideas of what will be needed to anchor an Army depot to outer space.

Exhibition locations for the Army exhibits are the former Acme Store in Stroudsburg and the former Pennsylvania unemployment office in East Stroudsburg. Visiting hours today will be 10 a. m. to 7 p. m.; 9 a. m. to 9:30 p. m. tomorrow and 9 to 9:30 on Saturday.

A parade, featuring Miss Tobyhanna Signal Depot of 1958, the Tobyhanna Signal Depot Honor Guard and Drill Team, the Second Army Pipe and Drum Corps, an Army tank and other military displays, will take place on Saturday, starting at 10 a. m.

Religious Voice

SCRANTON (AP) — Methodist Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia said last night religion must have a voice in education.

Huge Theft Enters Probe Of Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators heard yesterday that a missing witness stole some $30,000 from the New York State Federation of Labor.

The testimony came as a witness who had agreed to appear, Sidney Lewis of New York, dropped dead in the committee headquarters a few hours before his scheduled appearance. Lewis, who was in the publishing business, was the fourth prospective witness to die before he could testify before the Senate Rackets Committee.

The hearing went into alleged high-pressure sale of advertising for union publications, and three witnesses said the missing figure in the case, Benjamin Lapensohn, held out more than $157,000 from the federation in such sales.

Committee aides Robert E. Dunne and Charles E. Wolfe added, however, that Lapensohn was entitled to 75 per cent of his gross sales and so the net theft was something over $39,000.

Federation Funds

Eleanor Lekowitz, who used to manage Lapensohn's New York office, said federation funds had a way of vanishing from the office safe while she was at lunch.

Asked if it was Lapensohn who took them, the slender brunette witness replied: "It had to be." Lapensohn, who has left the country and been unavailable to committee investigators, had a contract as head of Rolec Publications in New York to solicit ads and contributions for the yearly New York Federationist, which he published for the union group.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief committee counsel, told newsmen there was no connection between Lapensohn and Lewis, except that some of Lewis' employees had worked for Lapensohn.

Another witness, Ruben H. Miller, testified he made some $7,000 a year on the side out of handling advertising for a Pennsylvania yearbook with a circulation of 600 to 800 copies.

Miller is a public relations officer for the Pennsylvania Department of Labor.

Senate Approves Salary Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — A military pay raise bill designed to make a career in the armed services more attractive was agreed on yesterday by a Senate-House Conference Committee.

The first year cost of the pay boosts, ranging from six per cent to as high as 60 per cent, was placed at $576,400,000. Virtually all military personnel with two years or more of service would benefit.

Know Your Candidates

WHAT DO you know about the candidates who are seeking their party nominations for state-wide offices at the May 20 primaries?

How do they stand on important state and national issues?

In order to help the voters become better acquainted with the candidates and their views, the non-partisan League of Women Voters of Pennsylvania has prepared an outline showing the qualifications of all the candidates and giving their verbatim answers to vital questions of the day.

The material gathered by the league as a public service to the voters has been made available to The Daily Record and will be published in serial form starting tomorrow. Watch for this feature on the editorial page of The Daily Record.

Britain Faces Rail Strike

LONDON (AP) — Railroad unions threatened a nationwide strike yesterday after government transport chiefs tossed out workers' demands for higher wages.

A rail strike would paralyze London's transport system. About 50,000 bus workers have been on strike since Sunday demanding a $1.47 increase in their average $30 a week salaries. There is no sign of a bus settlement.

Mother's Day Grows From Early Prayer

DINGMAN'S FERRY — In his pulpit announcements last Sunday, Rev. Ronald E. Benson of the Dingmans Ferry Methodist Church, called attention to the fact that this is National Family Week.

Churches throughout the country started last Sunday to consider the theme for this week, "Your Home A Household for God", which will culminate next Sunday, on Mother's Day, in the observance of the Festival of the Christian Home.

Rev. Benson has planned next Sunday's church service around this theme, with the sermon titled, "In Their Likeness". In addition, a custom of many years standing will be observed when the oldest and youngest mothers present at church will be presented with a flowering plant.

It was also noted in a recent issue of the Methodist magazine, "Together", that the idea for Mother's Day was born in the prayer of the Methodist Sunday School teacher.

Mrs. Anna Reeves Jarvis, mother of 11 children, had been teaching a Memorial Day lesson and remarked that there was no Memorial Day for the mothers who had given their sons in the Civil War. She concluded her lesson with the prayer, "that somewhere, sometime, someone will found a Mother's Day memorial recognizing the mothers of America and the world".

First Service
Mrs. Jarvis served the Andrews Methodist Church in Grafton, W.V., for 25 years as junior superintendent of the Sunday School. After her death in 1905, at the age of 72, Mrs. Jarvis' daughter, Anna, determined to establish the Mother's Day for which her mother had prayed.

With the help of her minister, the first Mother's Day Service was held in the Andrews Methodist Church on May 12, 1907. The idea was accepted with such enthusiasm that by 1909 Mother's Day was being celebrated in 45 states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Canada and Mexico.

It was officially recognized on May 8, 1914, when President Woodrow Wilson designated the second Sunday in May as the annual Mother's Day, and official notice was also taken of the event by Congress when a resolution was introduced which read, "The service rendered the United States by American mothers is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration."

Today, 51 years after Miss Jarvis founded it, Mother's Day follows the pattern she set. Mothers receive flowers, gifts, visits, telephone calls, and are generally remembered by their children.

Area Man To Appeal Sentence

THE BOARD of Pardons will hear a Stroudsburg resident's appeal for commutation of his sentence May 22 in the Supreme Court room of Philadelphia's City Hall.

Edward H. Bartlett Jr., 33, is serving a two-to-five year sentence in Eastern State Penitentiary. He was sentenced on four counts of burglary on May 8, 1957, after he and two other Monroe County men pleaded guilty to theft of foodstuffs from the Pinebrook Bible Conference, a summer camp in Stroud Township.

The group also admitted burglarizing a number of homes and camps in Paradise and Stroud Townships.

Another member of the trio, A. Lewis Williams, 32, Stroudsburg, RD 3, won a commutation of sentence from Gov. George M. Leader last month.

Bartonsville

THE CRUSADER'S program committee for the Mother's Day service to be held in St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday night, May 11, at 7:30, has announced that guest singers for the service will be the Pen Argyl Octet and Miss Elizabeth Frailey, soloist.

Joan Sprague has accepted employment at Ewe's in Tannersville. Sharon Canfield, Nancy Canfield, Joan Sprague, Gerald Canfield, Charles Yoch and Eugene Keenhold spent Saturday deep sea fishing off the New Jersey coast.

Several persons have reported seeing wild turkeys near here. Joyce Kresge, of Snyder'sville, was the Saturday guest of Eugene Learn.

Mrs. William Featherman and daughter Sandra were recent visitors in Bethlehem.

Mrs. Conrad Hess, of Wapwallopen, is ill and is a patient at Hazelton Hospital. Mrs. Hess is the mother of Mrs. Floyd Cyphers, of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Cyphers called on Mrs. Hess on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Spring are spending some time at their local farm after spending the winter in Bristol, Pa., and Florida.

Daily Record Survey

Questionnaires Cover All Sides Of Education Picture

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of articles on Monroe County education. Each will be based on the results of the county-wide survey conducted by the author for the Daily Record.

By Leonard Randolph
A FULL-SCALE summary of findings in the 1958 Education Survey will be published next Tuesday in The Daily Record.

This is the 58th article in the series based on the survey. The series has considered more than two dozen fields in which local educators and others interested in education feel there is a need for re-evaluation.

For obvious reasons, The Daily Record survey could not hope to cover every phase of local education. Neither time nor space will permit that.

In setting out to conduct the survey and publish these articles, this newspaper has attempted to present a sample portrait of the thinking of local educators, school board officials, Teachers College instructors, administrators and Parent-Teacher associations.

To our knowledge this is the first time an American newspaper has attempted to present a full-length view of education from the standpoint of those who are experts in the field.

It is true that not all those who received the questionnaire in the survey bothered to answer it and return it. But a large percentage did answer. If any person in education locally has a criticism of the survey or the series, it cannot be based on exclusion—copies of the questionnaire were sent to every classroom teacher, administrator, college faculty member, school board president and secretary and PTA president in the County.

All those who received the questionnaire were urged to answer it and return it. But a large percentage did answer. If any person in education locally has a criticism of the survey or the series, it cannot be based on exclusion—copies of the questionnaire were sent to every classroom teacher, administrator, college faculty member, school board president and secretary and PTA president in the County.

Although essay-type answers make the job of collating opinions and data infinitely more difficult, the survey deliberately chose questions which could not be given "yes or no" answers. It was the feeling of this newspaper that such answers allow for no thoughtful discussion of issues; are too often "snap" judgments rather than considered opinion.

The questions used in the survey were adapted from those used at the January conference on education called by Gov. Leader. Since these were considered major issues in education at this time by the Department of Public Instruction, it was our feeling that ALL Monroe County educators should be given an opportunity to express their views.

We had expected that survey answers would produce numerous side issues. In some cases subjects which were not directly approached in the questionnaire emerged as major discussion areas. Every effort has

ESSTC Men Entertain Kiwanis Clubs

TWO GROUPS of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College students entertained the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday.

First half of the program was devoted to a weight-lifting demonstration presided over by Andy Lakata, eastern college champion and runner-up in the national collegiate tournament held recently at Michigan State College.

Demonstration
Taking part in the demonstration, which showed the three types of weight-lifting used in the Olympics, were Mike LaPorta, John Falvello and Don Rich.

Five women students presented the second half of the program. It consisted of a "flapper era" couple. Harriet Shoudt and Ruth Ann Shoemaker, dancing the Charleston, and a series of vocal numbers by the Three Flats and No Sharp—Nancy Andrews, Chris Barnard and Pat Schotta.

Eugene H. Martin was program chairman. John E. Watt presided at the meeting.

been made to include these various issues as they have arisen. Although response to the survey in terms of returned questionnaires was good in all areas, it was strongest among the administrators.

Questionnaires which were mailed out contained code numbers. These were used only as a means of identifying the category in which the person receiving each questionnaire was included. (Under this system, the number "1" signified classroom teacher, "2" was for administration personnel, "3" for school board officials, "4" for college personnel and "5" was used to designate PTA presidents.)

More than 54 percent of the administrators receiving the survey form (35) answered and returned it. Runner-up in terms of response were PTA presidents with more than 36 percent answering. State Teachers College personnel cooperated in large numbers with 29 percent answering the survey. Perhaps because teachers throughout the State had complained bitterly because they had not been included in larger percentage in the Governor's State conference, we had felt the response from this division would be the largest in the survey. It was not. A final count shows that only 26 percent of the local classroom teachers receiving the survey bothered to fill it out and return it. School board officials were lowest in percentage with only 19 percent of their questionnaires returned.

Responses were apparently fairly well distributed among schools in the county. While this is not a scientific conclusion, letters returned were mailed from all sections of the county with the general ratio being about in line with the ratio of forms sent to the separate area schools. The overall return of forms, however, was excellent. With 447 questionnaires sent out, a final accounting shows that 135 directly associated with local school systems were returned. This would mean an approximate 30 percent return in the general survey.

The Daily Record survey has attracted considerable attention elsewhere. After articles on it appeared in Editor and Publisher, the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association news and in TRENDS, the National Education Association's public relations newsletter we received several requests for information on the survey.

These came from various sections of the country: from New Mexico, California, Ohio and New York.

Our Neighbors At Depot

Only the vagaries of the weather loom as a possible deterrent to the tremendous success of this year's Tobyhanna Days celebration opening today in the Stroudsburgs.

The depot has gone to great lengths to procure a large number of outstanding exhibits and demonstrations for the three-day event. A preview of some of the military equipment which will go on public display indicates that this will be bigger, by far, than the three previous Tobyhanna Days observances.

Merchants of the twin boroughs are united as never before in sponsoring and promoting this year's program. The success of the celebration will guarantee an even greater program in the years to come.

The annual event is designed to strengthen in every way possible the close relationship which exists between the twin boroughs and the civilian and military personnel at the huge Army installation in northern Monroe County.

Tobyhanna Days in a real sense help to implement the good neighbor policy on which small counties such as ours are built. They provide townspeople an opportunity to learn more about the vital role the depot is playing in the national defense effort and create the opportunity for depot employees to become better acquainted with the townspeople.

We learn, for example, that the depot employs 2,280 civilians and 330 military personnel, that it has an annual payroll of $11,000,000, that it buys between three and four million dollars worth of supplies and services in the area, much of which is placed with small firms in Monroe County.

We also learn that depot employees are active participants in civic affairs of their communities. They have distinguished themselves in the Red Cross blood drives of recent years, giving a total of 3,027 pints in eight semi-annual campaigns. Depot personnel have contributed unstintingly to the various charity drives conducted locally.

In time of need, the depot is one of the first to swing into action, as evidenced by their rescue work during the flood emergency of 1955, the severe snowstorms of the past Winter and in airlifting food to starving deer.

The depot is an integral part in the life and economy of the Pocono area, just as it is an important cog in the nation's defense machine. We hope each succeeding year will see a deepening of that importance and an ever-lengthening bond of friendship between community and depot.

Every Community Needs

Any community in the United States, including Middletown, can make progress whenever the majority of its inhabitants are more interested in the general welfare than in envying their neighbors.

The population of any given area, united in common advantages, facing the same disadvantages and seeking methods of growth, can assess its prospects upon the basis of its average inhabitant.

It takes more than natural resources to make a prosperous people. This applies to nations, states, counties, and municipalities. The spirit of the people, within certain physical boundary lines, is more important to the welfare of the people than the possession of certain assets which are often deemed advantageous.

You can give a locality an excellent climate, wonderful natural resources and an industrial set-up that is efficient, but, unless you can breathe a common purpose into the life of the area, it will fall far short of becoming highly prosperous.—Middletown Press and Journal.

Robert S. Allen Reports...

Default On Job Taxes

Washington — The Internal Revenue Service is finding it increasingly difficult to collect the so-called "employment taxes" — withholding and social security taxes. A record high of $300,678,000 in these taxes was in default as of Jan. 1.

That is, during last year, 377,253 employers collected this huge amount in withholding and social security taxes from workers, but failed to pay the money to the government.

This jolting record is a 7.6 percent jump over 1956. In that year, such "delinquencies" totaled $279,183,000 from 356,748 employers.

In addition to this sizable increase, the Revenue Service has written off as "uncollectable" another $140,000,000 in "employment taxes" dating back to 1954. This is the largest amount of such taxes ever "written off" by the government.

Strikingly, this bleak record is in direct contrast to that of personal income taxes. Defaults in them declined by seven percent last year.

During the same period that employer failures to pay withholding and social security taxes soared to new highs, delinquencies on individual taxes dropped to $1,504,709,000 as against $1,619,629,000 in 1956.

The number of persons involved in these defaults were: 1957—1,554,876; 1956—1,560,685.

These are highlights of a report obtained from the Revenue Service by Senator John Williams, Del., ranking Republican on the Finance Committee, and long-time crusader for tax reforms.

In submitting this information, Acting Revenue Commissioner O. Gordon Delk expressed concern over the increase in delinquencies on "employment taxes." He stated that at the rate these defaults have continued since January 1, it's possible they may soar to as much as $500,000,000 by the end of this year.

Senator Williams, in a memorandum to other Finance Committee members, has characterized this situation as "truly alarming."

"It must be kept in mind," he declared, "that these are taxes which have been withheld by employers from their workers. These are trust funds, and under no circumstances should they ever be considered as belonging to an employer, or as representing funds which he can divert to his own use."

New York City tops the list with the highest total of these delinquencies. The ten highest areas as reported by the IRS to Senator Williams are:

District	Employment Tax	Number	Amount
New York	67,371	$57,348,000
Chicago	35,678	$2,698,000
Los Angeles	19,853	$2,762,000
Newark
N. J.	14,575	$1,710,000
Detroit	20,538	$1,518,000
Philadelphia	7,564	$1,317,000
Boston	8,826	$1,597,000
Jacksonville, Fla.	11,447	$319,000
Cleveland	7,431	$788,000
Dallas	8,225	$470,000

Note: Senator Williams advises employees to write at least once a year to the nearest Director of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Social Security Administration, and ask about the status of their account. When doing that, be sure to include the correct number of your social security card.

"You lucky, lucky fellow! We were ALL engaged to her, but YOU married her!"

Writer's Cramp

George Sokolsky Says...

Undoubtedly the most spectacular campaign this year will be the nomination and election of Senator William F. Knowland as Governor of California. Senator Knowland is the leader of the Republican Party in the United States Senate. He could have been renominated and re-elected to the Senate. He deliberately declined the sure thing and chose to risk himself for the Governorship of his state.

Against him are already gathering might forces, particularly the professional labor barons who earn their livings out of the work of other men. They object to Knowland because he has supported the American Right-to-Work doctrine which is as fundamental as free speech, namely, that no man and no group of men may enter into a conspiracy to prevent other human beings from earning a living.

The Right-to-Work doctrine is basic in American life, going back to the earliest Colonial days, before alien influences subordinated American thinking to one form or another of Marxian enslavement of the individual to the prevailing forces in society.

It has been suggested that Senator Knowland would have been a smarter politician had he not advocated the Right-to-Work doctrine until after he had been elected Governor. Then the labor barons might not have poured millions of dollars into California to effectuate his defeat.

He treats such politician's proposals with contempt, as Senator Robert A. Taft did. A man must be honest with himself and if the price of being elected is to be a liar, Knowland rejects the whole thing.

His opposition has already developed a normal A.D.A. campaign which is to produce no arguments against Knowland's character or fitness, but to repeat endlessly the unprovable statement that he cannot be elected. This, no one can know until after an election actually has taken place, for the will of the people is not expressed in polls or in estimates but in the voting booth where secrecy and truth prevail.

Bill Knowland is obstinate in another regard. He is still a United States Senator and the Republican leader of the Senate and he takes his responsibilities seriously. Therefore,

One of the greatest issues to face the American people during the next decade will be the division of powers and authorities between the Federal Government in Washington and the 48 states.

The encroachment of the Federal Government upon the states since 1933 has been beyond belief. The current Supreme Court, presided over by Chief Justice Earl Warren, seems bent upon destroying the authority of the states altogether. Utilizing its taxing power, the Federal Government takes so much of the earned income of the people out of each state as to leave the states without adequate revenue to perform their proper local functions.

Add Sokolsky Knowland. Okay Under our Constitution and our system of government, this course can only lead to a chaos approaching anarchy. It is therefore necessary for each state to elect a strong Governor, a man of uncompromising character, who will protect the dignity of his state and the rights of his people.

Those who know him well and who have followed his record in the Senate believe that Senator Knowland is such a man.

Confidential To Punished Unfairly: Everybody had a teacher who punished the whole class because of one student. I suppose the psychology is that the kids will know who the guilty is and will see to it that he gets punished in their own way. It may not be fair — but it's effective.

With Walter Winchell On Broadway

The Headliners

The lamplighters of Broadway are igniting the skies with the names of Lunt and Fontanne. After 34 years as a great acting team (and 36 happy wedding anniversaries) they are enchanting audiences in "The Visit" — and a theatre has been named after them. Many years ago we dubbed them Mr. and Mrs. Theatre. . . . They are immense artists, of course, and dedicated performers. The Lunts have been known to rehearse a single inflection for weeks. They once spent a month rehearsing an episode in a hit show — until they were satisfied with it. They are devoted to the theatre and theatre-goers adore them. It has been a long, happy love affair both personally and professionally.

The Lunt-Fontanne theatre is not their greatest monument. It is the warm, glowing memories their artistry has inspired.

Katharine Cornell, the Golden Girl, attracted gilt-edged notices for her emoting in "The Firstborn." The star has brightened Broadway in about 50 dramas. Nevertheless, her biggest thrill was experienced far from The Big Street. . . . It happened when she did "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" for the troops overseas during the war. At first, the USO was reluctant to give the star permission to do the show. As Miss Cornell recalls: "They said I wouldn't have an audience after the first twenty minutes. But they came and stayed and loved it. I never heard such applause."

As was to be expected, Julie Andrews conquered London in "My Fair Lady." Her initial stage appearance in London was equally memorable and triumphant. . . . When Miss Andrews was a 2-year-old trouper, she took part in a children's pageant. She sang a song in a sleeping garment that was buttoned at the back, loosely buttoned. In the middle of the song, the buttons came undone and the flap fell. Little Julie's pulse remained intact, however. She continued singing. Then she turned around and took a bottoms-up bow while the audience cheered.

Jim Riley Says:

It's Plenty Wet This Year

If you are under the impression that it has rained a lot since Saturday morning, you are absolutely correct.

If you are also thinking that it has rained more than the usual amount since the beginning of January, you are also right.

I didn't reach this startling conclusion by myself, but actually received the advice from Bill Hagerty, well known Stroudsburg weatherman.

Bill points out that 23 inches of rain have fallen in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg region since January 1.

Compare this figure with the fact that the yearly average for this neck of the woods is 45 inches.

Bill went on to say that we are more than eight inches above normal for this point in the calendar year.

Yes, it's been wet and plenty tough on the folks trying to do their Spring planting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nierling, Scotrun, are currently in quest of the big trout in Canada.

Also in the party are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Transue, Stroudsburg.

The trip is scheduled to cover 10 days.

George reported that a number of dead deer have been found in Monroe County of late. The heavy snows of last Winter took their toll.

Clyde Burke, the public relations man at Tobyhanna Signal Depot, did a brilliant job once again in publicizing "Tobyhanna Days" this year.

Clyde, Mrs. Burke and two daughters live at 3 Club Court, Stroudsburg.

Daniel Miller, Stroudsburg

resident and official of the Delaware Valley Boy Scout District, took part in a camporee last weekend.

The outdoor program was held at the Blue Valley Farm Show grounds between Bangor and Pen Argyl, despite the rain.

Don't forget tomorrow is the day the Bloodmobile will visit George N. Kemp American Legion Post in East Stroudsburg.

Everyone should join forces to make this appearance a successful venture.

Being identified with the highest rank of food purveyors is essential when supplying such famous eating places as Antoine's of New Orleans, the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec, the Royal York in Toronto, the Palm Island Club in Miami, the Sea Horse of Palm Springs, Calif., and the Stork Club of New York.

Refrigerated air delivery is often required for transporting foods from the fine world market in New York.

Quality cuts of western beef, Australian lamb, acorn-fed pork, choice buffalo tenderloin, Maine lobster, pheasant, quail, almost extinct John-son's Bay oysters, Gaspe salmon, Pompano, stone crabs, and black bear meats are available in the Metropolitan market.

NEWFORDLAND — A schoolboy was struck Tuesday night when he crossed the road in front of a school station wagon.

Dale Stevens, 11, son of Dr. and Mrs. Glen Stevens, was thrown to the highway when he was hit by a car operated by John Zuckovich, 6 S. Tamaqua St., McAdoo, near Hazleton.

The boy suffered bruises, bruise burns and a bump on the head. He was taken to the office of Dr. Frank Urdel and treated there.

Sixth Grader

He is a sixth grade pupil at Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint School. He was struck while crossing Route 90 in front of his home after getting out of a station wagon operated by Albert Gilpin for the school district.

Jury Finds Buildings 'Inadequate'

MONROE COUNTY buildings are generally "inadequate," the May grand jury reported yesterday.

The report, signed by Edith Morgan, foreman, and Edwin F. Buck, secretary, was presented to Judge Fred W. Davis.

It said the court house is "in need of painting, redecorating and apparent roof repairs." The children's aid, cancer and conservation building needs roof repairs, lights in the upstairs hall, interior painting and decorating and the furnace is not in proper working condition.

Floor Covering
The health and tuberculosis society building needs floor covering and exterior painting. The county jail also needs exterior painting and "space and facilities are inadequate," the report said.

Recommendations for the county home included repairs to the second floor bathroom and hall, replacement of the dining room floor, better light and additional living quarters.

The report also commended the county home, saying the caretakers appear to be doing "an excellent job," the guests seem "happy" and preparations of dinner "looked very good."

Too Much Care May Cause Damage To Rhododendrons

RHODODENDRON NOTES: Several readers have asked us why it is that their rhododendrons do not produce well, even though fed regularly with the often-recommended aluminum sulfate, a chemical used for increasing soil acidity.

C. G. Bowers, a world-famous authority on Rhododendrons believes that continued use of aluminum sulfate will produce aluminum poisoning among the plants, and he believes that nitrogen should be used in the form of ammonium. So, if you raise rhododendrons and want to maintain good color, you don't have to pour tons of fertilizer or aluminum sulfate on to get green coloring and blossoms.

One spring application of one tablespoon of ammonium sulfate in 10 quarts of water, and applied around each bush is ample. If you overfeed your rhododendrons you get only a few flowers, plus lots of leaf growth.

In cases where flowering has been feeble due to too much nitrogen, small amounts of superphosphate may help to restore the flower-bud set, according to Bernard Harkness of the City of Rochester's Park Departments.

In Highland Park at Rochester, where rhododendron plants are set in pure peat, they continue to thrive and their only nutrient additions are from decay of the oak leaf mulch.

So, while aluminum sulfate is recommended as a fertilizer for rhododendrons and azaleas, we'd like to caution our friends that it's continued use does more harm than good.

Incidentally, we've been observing the varieties that are hardy in Highland Park and would like to mention a few hybrids that you might try, since they are perfectly hardy: Album elegans, Boule de Nègre, Caracacus, Charles Dickens, Lee's Dark Purple, Mrs. Charles Sargent, Roseum Elegans, to name a few.

The small-leaved rhododendron (Carolinianum) is very much inclined to bear heavily and is also perfectly hardy. Roses: Last year many readers told us that just before their rose buds started to open, they turned brown and stayed that way all Summer, remaining on the bushes throughout the Winter. If you found such buds on your roses this Spring, you can be sure the damage is due to thrips, pests so small that they're apt to be overlooked.

Thrips don't cause any injury to open flowers, but they do cause damage to buds by sawing their way under the calyx segments, more or less fusing the floral parts together. As a result, the buds turn brown and fall to open. They'll also feed on foliage, speckling it with silvery spots.

Control: You can knock out thrips by using DDT, malathion, Lindane, Methoxychlor, Chlordane and similar insecticides. Dust or spray the entire plants, including buds and you won't have any trouble. Be sure to get the undersides of the leaves also. Don't wait until thrips get into the buds because it's impossible to fight them then.

Control: Dust weekly with Zineb or a copper compound. Zineb alone, one tablespoon of the 50 per cent grade to a gallon of water, plus one-half teaspoon of detergent, makes a good spray.

The secret is to keep the foliage and buds covered from the start. It's practically impossible to check botrytis once it has set in on your peonies, lilies, gladioli and others.

Also, in the fall, after blooming is over, it's a good idea to cut back the dead stalks and drench the plants (and soil) with either Zineb or copper. Also, try planting your lilies in an open location where there is plenty of air drainage and sunshine.

I think you'll find that Zineb is an excellent all-purpose fungicide for most foliage diseases.

604 Interviewed For New Industrial Plant In Bangor

BANGOR—Some 604 persons were interviewed and their applications completed when representatives of the Heyer Industries, Inc., a new industry to be located here, screened prospective employees Tuesday.

The new company's representatives held office hours between 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building. It will manufacture automotive and airplane engine testing equipment and will locate in the Crown plant in S. Main St.

Large Number
Because of the large number of persons appearing for interview the company will continue to accept applications. It was also emphasized that no permanent positions will be filled by the company until all prospects have been interviewed.

Officials of the company reported that they will be at the Municipal Building here on May 13, 15 and 22 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. to complete personnel interviews.

Five company representatives assisted by Kenneth Ace, Ernest Turzio, James F. Pritchard, and A. C. Ferris and the Rev. William E. Dennis handled the processing yesterday. Approximately 90 per cent of the applications were received from men.

The company will employ, however, 60 per cent men and 40 per cent women.

Irving Meyer, treasurer of the company, stated the company was "very happy" with the response of the area personnel. He predicted that approximately 300 will be on the payroll when production begins in Bangor.

The production date tentatively set was August 1.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Don't expect me to be a Pollyanna to your Cassandra. My feet are just as wet, my grass just as high, and my conviction that it's never going to stop raining just as strong.

Just the same, company helps and yesterday was my day for having lots of it and all pleasant. Also the music filling the air on Main St. from the Tobyhanna display last night at least tempted you to wade through the puddles in waltz-time.

At least one group is optimistic. The youth Fellowship of the Grace Lutheran Church has scheduled a "moonlight" hayride for Friday night. It they guarantee the moon, I'll go with them.

Whether it's the wet weather or not I don't know but the dogwood now coming into bloom on Foxtown Hill is pinker than I ever remember it. Apple blossoms also smell sweeter when they are wet, but people don't.

Especially children — but you know something? There's nothing makes me more homesick. When other people's children are clean and starched, combed and curled, I admire but not envy. But a small boy, sweaty and muddy and with a pocketful of fishworms, makes me homesick.

All right, I'll be honest. The job of turning out fishworms from wet pockets, of scrapping mud off stiffening oxfords with a knife, of trying to find a child under the dirt and the bathtub under the ring was never a favorite one. But, boy, was I needed!

Service Often Starts From Tiny Beginning

By Anne Heywood

My experience has been that most glamorous and highly unusual services or products that people dream up have, as a rule, sprung from very simple and unglamorous beginnings.

For example, I know a woman who has what can only be called a personal maid service. I think on her calling card she refers to it as a "wardrobe-grooming service," but she does, in effect, what personal maids used to do. I first heard about her through a friend of mine named Adelaide who lives in a very chic midtown New York City hotel and has a highly paid job in the fashion field.

Looks Like a Million Adelaide always looks like a million dollars and, since I know that her hours are extraordinarily long, I asked her once how she managed to take care of such unglamorous details as heels on shoes, hems, mending and ironing slips.

Her face brightened and she told me about Miss C. and showed me her card. Miss C. is what you would call an aging gentlewoman with a small fixed income. She has lived in this same hotel for years and tried for a long time to think of some way to supplement her income.

Had No Skills

"She had no business skills at all," Adelaide told me, "and no working experience. She came from a well-to-do family who had fallen on hard times."

"The first time I learned of her was when I saw a little notice in the elevator saying that Miss C., in room such and such, would undertake errands to the tailor, the cleaner, the shoe repair man, for working ladies at a small fee. I saw the notice at a time when I very badly needed

Whites To Mark 57th Wedding Anniversary

Today Mr. and Mrs. Steward White, of Stroudsburg RD 3, will celebrate 57 years of marriage since that Spring day in 1901 when they were wed in the Stroudsburg Lutheran parsonage by Rev. B. F. Apple.

In the intervening years the Whites became the parents of a son, Clyde, and a daughter, Evelyn, now Mrs. Jack Pine, of South Stroudsburg. Clyde resides in Bartonsville. They have four grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

Mrs. White is the former Althea Marsh. She and her husband are lifelong residents of the Stroudsburg area, where Mr. White owned and operated a concrete manufacturing business for about forty years.

The Whites are members of Wesley Chapel Church and Sunday School.

Jr. Woman's Club Adopts Home For Aged As Project

The Junior Women's Club at its annual business meeting on Tuesday night at the Stroud Community House voted to adopt the Home for the Aged as their main charity for next year, and to raise money will sell tickets for a trip to Bermuda.

The club also voted to distribute the $300 left in the treasury to the following organizations: $100 for Child Health; $100 for Women's Medical College, Philadelphia; and $100 to the local Home for the Aged. An additional $596, raised previously and field in bonds for the Home for the Aged, was presented to them during this club year.

Mrs. Robert Bixler presided at the meeting. New officers were elected and installed by Mrs. Stephen Moffett, Jr., president of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs. They are:

The program featured a Fun Fashion Show with Bette Morgan as narrator. A tea dress, hung with tea bags; a box jacket of a real cardboard box; a dale dress, hung with calendars; a print dress of newspapers; a dress with a plunging neckline, featuring a plunger; these were some of the fashions.

They were modeled by Dorothy Hammond, Joan Krueger, Lois Sheeley, Jean Del Campo, Beverly Scheller, Irene Phillips, Christina Coslett, Janice Muller, Shirley Martin, Joan Staples and Joan Reinhold.

Members decided to explore the matter further and to take action at the June meeting. Also to be decided at that time will be whether the organization will sponsor a Summer music project. Members voted to purchase two dozen additional chairs for the assembly room.

Elected to office for the coming year were: Mrs. Seymour Pollan, president; Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, vice president; Mrs. Jules Steinberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Larry Treen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Morris Jacobson, financial secretary; and Mrs. Ted Cahn, treasurer.

Spring Greens Fresh As Springtime In Your Menu

By Margaret MacLaren Monroe County Home Economist

Although I promised to tell you of comparative prices of prepared mixes and home mixes this week, the influx of Spring greens to local vegetable counters seemed more timely. Therefore, I'm postponing the column on baking until next week.

Spring is green time. And as fresh as Spring itself are the greens coming to our market. Here's a collection of vegetables that offers much. And maybe they're just what you've been waiting for.

There's a variety of kinds and a difference in taste. Greens vary from sweet to tangy so there are some to please everyone. The dandelion is the most tangy while spinach is on the sweeter side. Kale and beet greens are quite similar to spinach in flavor, while collards resemble cabbage in taste.

Learn the Kinds

Beet Greens—Tender top of young beets. Sometimes sold alone or with the young beets still attached. Collards—from the cabbage clan, big broad curly leaves that look like cabbage, but didn't form a head. A good green color that's fresh and crisp is what you want. Dandelions—to get the most delicate flavor, the small tender plants are best.

Kale—another member of the cabbage family. A dark bluish green leaf that's crinkled and has a rough edge. No head here, either.

Spinach—smooth dark green leaves from thick stocky plants. Mustard, sorrel and turnip greens are others you may see.

The Buying is Easy — You shouldn't have any trouble selecting leafy green vegetables. One look at any of them will tell you much about the quality. Even though most are good quality, it's smart to look them over before you buy.

All you need to do is look for: Freshness—it's the most important; crisp green leaves, free from blemish; avoid flabby wilted leaves. They indicate "old age."

Keep Them Green and Fresh—Wash through several waters, gently on a wire rack or shake gently in a towel. This goes for prepackaged greens too, since all should be washed before cooking. Store in hydrator, plastic bag or damp cloth in refrigerator but never, never near a freezer unit or in a paper bag.

There's Good in the Green—Spring greens are well known for their nutritive value. The deeper green the leaves, the higher the Vitamin A content—all greens are rich in this vitamin. Plus this, greens contribute Vitamin C and iron to the diet in substantial amounts. That's not all, they rank high on the list for being low in calories.

Cook Correctly—Greens are very tender and the cooking should be short to keep flavor and food value. There are some differences in the cooking methods. Beetgreens, spinach and dandelion can be cooked in just the water that clings to the greens after they are washed. Cook in a covered saucepan until they wilt, drain and season. Discard any water left from the dandelion greens as it's too bitter to use. But the best rule to follow is to use so little water that there's none left.

Collards, kale, mustard and turnip greens need longer cooking. Use a medium amount of water for these and cook until tender, about 20 minutes.

Some Seasonings—Season with butter and garnish with hard-cooked eggs or lemon slices. Add bits of crispy fried bacon. Cook with a bit of minced onion, green pepper, or mint leaves. Or add a herb, garlic or horseradish for flavor.

Market Trends

Fresh market vegetable supplies are gradually becoming more important, even though cool weather has held back some things. Fresh asparagus and rhubarb from local sources are on the market, but cool weather tends to hold back volume. Most of the fresh strawberries are still coming from Louisiana. Florida cucumbers are less expensive as supplies are more plentiful now. Cooking greens continue to be inexpensive.

The fresh mushroom season is drawing to a close, although there will be limited quantities available throughout the summer. These have to be produced in air conditioned houses. Prices, naturally, will be higher until late in the fall.

Apples from northeastern storages are fairly well sold now. Western apples are still available. There are larger quantities of Mexican cantaloupes in stores than is usual, since growers are expanding their operations in that country. Prices for these melons are moderate.

In meats, leg of lamb is somewhat lower than it has been; lamb prices compare favorably with beef and pork at the moment. Expect some good lamb buys during May. Beef and pork prices do not show any consistent drop, but the "specials" are attractive. For example, T-bone steaks are often featured at prices per pound close to several roasts and steaks from the beef round. Remember any loin steak is more tender than any cut from the round, and loin cuts do not need moist heat cooking.

St. Mary's Guild Schedules May Special Events

The regular meeting of St. Mary's Guild, Christ Episcopal Church, was held on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Florence Calkins conducted the devotions. The president, Mrs. William E. Andrew, presided over the business session.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, President of the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church, and Mrs. Charles A. Park were named delegates to attend the 76th Annual Meeting of The Woman's Auxiliary of The Diocese of Bethlehem at The Church of the Good Shepherd, Scranton, Pa., on May 13 and 14. Also in attendance will be other members of the Guild and the Altar Guild.

The women of Christ Church will have a Corporate Communion on Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service, at which time there will be the Spring Ingathering of the United Thank Offering.

The Guild will hold their spring rummage sale on May 15, 16 and 17 at 314 Main St. and the rooms will be open on Wednesday, May 14 in the afternoon for contributions. Co-Chairmen of the sale are Mrs. Roy M. Hauser and Mrs. Edwin F. Oettel.

The Cancer Dressings Group will meet in the Parish Hall on Thursday from 11 to 3.

A report was given on the Spring Luncheon held last month and thanks were extended to Mrs. William E. Andrew and Mrs. William J. Howard for the success of this event which netted over $100. Mrs. A. Starr Phelps reported that $153.20 had been realized from the bazaar table at the various events of the year.

Miss Jean Taylor and Miss Pamela Smith told of their visit to Kirby House, Wilkes-Barre, where they took part in the Third Christian Vocational Conference.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Philip E. Brundage, Mrs. Edwin F. Oettel and Miss Grace DePue.

Clearview PTA Wants Rummage

Members and friends of the Clearview Parent-Teachers Assn. who have things for the rummage sale are asked to bring them to the storeroom at 314 Main St. in Stroudsburg today between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Anyone who cannot deliver their contributions is asked to call Mrs. Miller, 2558-R or Mrs. Hardaker, 2617, and the things will be picked up.

The sale will be held May 9 and 10 from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Egg prices have dropped again, and large eggs are indeed an economical protein food this week. Supplies at the moment are more than ample.

Louis Zopel presided at the meeting. It was announced that as soon as the carpentry work is finished in the recreation room at the school, the curtains given by Mrs. Dwalby will be hung.

Mrs. Hendrick thanked members who assisted in entertaining the Monroe County Council of PTA. The next meeting of the council will be held at the Hamilton Twp. School when officers will be elected.

The Wyckoff Shopper

Lake Canaveral, Florida, hasn't anything (except maybe some sand and palm trees) that we can't match these days right here in the Stroudsburgs. The Florida city, as you know, is the one famous as the site of all government missile firing. Well, the Stroudsburgs have their missiles too, now during Tobyhanna Days... and Lt. Martin, commanding officer of the 579th Signal Corps, tells me they'll be fired periodically during the three-day celebration. Prizes will be given their finders.

The finders needn't be inhabiting outer space either! These missiles will go maybe 500 feet in the air, and return to earth, as one poet puts it, "I know not where." However, those who are lucky enough to find one and return it will be rewarded.

Since my experience with missiles is rather limited... and I assume yours to be also... I naturally asked what this thing I'd be looking for would look LIKE.

"If you've seen any pictures of the big missiles," Lt. Martin said, "you would have no trouble recognizing one. It will be very much the same in appearance, but will be very small in comparison."

As he spoke I visualized something very tiny indeed... about the size of a pocket flashlight or cigarette lighter. But that isn't exactly what Lt. Martin meant by small. These missiles will be about a foot long... and they will weigh a couple of pounds.

"And they're safe to pick up?" I queried in my most persistent feminine fashion.

"Oh, yes," Lt. Martin reassured me. "Once they've been up and come DOWN," he explained, "they are perfectly safe to handle. When they are fired," he said, "a parachute is released. Then they come down."

I have absolute faith in Lt. Martin. He is a friendly, affable young man; a native of Phillipsburg, Pa., who expects to make the army his career. On his left hand he wears a large and handsome ring with a light blue stone at its center. It is an article of jewelry destined to impress any loyal American and forever challenge and inspire the wearer... it is the coveted ring of the United States Military Academy at West Point. The lieutenant had four years there.

Plans for the big parade on Saturday are largely in the hands of this competent young man, who has been cooperating with Harry Mullins of the local Business Men's Association. They sound exciting, and will bring approximately 800 marchers to the streets of the Stroudsburgs.

For all of my faith in Lt. Martin, his ability, and his knowledge of missiles, I am still, however, a woman who is curious, hard to convince, and openly skeptical of anything explosive and mechanical. I should love to find a "down to earth" missile and receive a prize. But I'm almost positive I would never pick one up. I'd probably just stand along side of it, claiming it as mine, and shouting at the top of my lungs until someone came to my rescue!

Stroudsburg WSCS Has Talk By Rev. Bollier

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church heard Rev. John Bollier, pastor of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, describe the ecumenical movement in terms of the individual at their meeting on Monday night at the church parlors.

Mr. Bollier who spent four and a half months in study at the Ecumenical Institute in Geneva, Switzerland, sponsored by the World Council of Churches, described the purpose of the institute which was to explore ways in which denominations could work together to advance the work of the world Church.

He showed slides of the chalet where they were located. The institute was attended by 35 persons, representing many countries and ten denominations. He described areas of differences and of agreement.

One area of complete agreement was that of the rehabilitation of refugees. A question and answer period followed his talk.

AAU Nixes Psychologist's Bid For Court Tour Abroad

NEW YORK (U) — The Seattle psychologist who hopes to take a group of college All-American basketball players on a tour of Europe this summer might as well forget about it. The Amateur Athletic Union said so Wednesday.

The psychologist, Sam Mossafer, said he was working on lining up such college hotshots as Wilt Chamberlain of Kansas, Elgin Baylor of Seattle, Don Hennon of Pittsburgh, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bob Boozer of Kansas State and others for a barnstorming trip abroad. Robertson already has said he wouldn't go.

Let It Up To Union

Mossafer said in Seattle Wednesday he told the boys if the AAU refuses approval, the tour is off. He said he has written the AAU for approval.

The AAU here said it hasn't received any application from Mossafer but Secretary-Treasurer Jim Simms said Sam hasn't a chance.

Simms lined up a series of obstacles for the psychologist to ponder over.

"First he would have to seek the approval of the AAU's basketball committee," said Simms.

"That is headed by Russ Lyons of Denver who is still abroad with the team that toured Russia."

"Then he would have to get the approval of the AAU's foreign relations committee. He must work through us for we are the representatives to the international federations. Our basketball committee is the representative to the International Basketball Federation."

Gives First Choice

"Out basketball committee gives first choice to the AAU champions for any trips abroad. If they don't go, then the No. 2 team and the No. 3 team in order get next crack. The Peoria Cats won the championship and they composed the major part of the team that played in Russia."

"Then, to make a tour of any country, they would have to get an invitation from the basketball federations in each country. The invitations would have to come through us."

This, he said, would take a lot of time.

Curt Snaps Dodger Jinx, Defeats LA

LOS ANGELES (U) — Lefty Curt Simmons shook an old jinx and pitched Philadelphia to a 9-3 victory over Los Angeles Wednesday. It was the first time Simmons had beaten the Dodgers since the 1954 season.

The Phillies combed four Dodger pitchers for 12 hits and drove starter Fred Kipp but in the seventh.

Los Angeles won the series, three games to two.

Los Angeles got all its runs off Simmons in the third when Carl Furillo banged a home run to left center with Don Zimmer and Charley Neal aboard.

Aussie Bids For Shot At Floyd's Title

NEW YORK (U) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has another challenge—this time from far off Australia.

According to veteran New York Manager Charlie Rose, the 23-year-old champ can collect $200,000 for risking his title in Sydney against Australian Champion Alan Williams.

Rose said he received a cable Wednesday from Williams' manager, Jim Johnson, authorizing him to act as Williams' agent in offering Patterson the big purse.

Could Name Date

Rose who has been doing business with Australians for many years, said Johnson told him that Patterson could name the date. Williams would be willing to come to the United States and fight Patterson if the world ruler didn't want to go to Australia.

Giants Trip Bucs, 8-6

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — San Francisco's Giants withstood a home run barrage Wednesday, to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates and their ace right-hander Bob Friend 8-6, and remain just one game off Chicago's National League-leading pace.

The Giants, winning the series 3 games to 2, retired Friend with a 4-run outburst in the fourth inning, highlighted by rookie catcher Bob Schmidt's three-run homer. It traveled 370 feet into the left field bleachers.

The Homer Mark

Pittsburgh tied a major league record of three homers in a row at the expense of giant starter Curt Barclay in the fifth. Bob Skinner, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Thomas rocketed homers in succession.

Big Klu added another in the seventh. His first was a mighty blast that traveled 420 feet over the right field bleachers. The second went about 300 feet in the same place.

Rookie Hurls Chicago Cubs To 5-1 Win

CHICAGO (U) — Lefty Taylor Phillips, acquired in a controversial deal with the Milwaukee Braves, hurled his first Chicago victory Wednesday, a five-hitter, for a 5-1 Cub decision over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The Cubs thus kept their slim National League lead.

Phillips, who came with Wednesday's batterymate, Sam Taylor, in a winter trade for pitcher Bob Rush, struck out Frank Robinson and Steve Bilko with the bases loaded to get out of a third inning jam.

Tough Down Stretch

He allowed only one hit, a scratch single in the seventh, after the fifth frame.

Cincinnati's one run came in the first on Pete Whisenant's triple and a wild pitch by Phillips.

Cub rookie Johnny Goryl spanked a pair of one-run singles and Dale Long hammered a pair of doubles and a single in three official trips to pace the nine-hit Bruin attack against three Redleg pitchers.

Hartack To Aid In 'Mike' Work

BALTIMORE, Md.—Bill Hartack, three times the nation's leading jockey, isn't letting a broken leg keep him away from the race track.

Hartack, who missed the mount on Kentucky Derby winner Tim Tam when he suffered a fractured leg a few days prior to last week's big race, will team with Chris Schenkel on the pre-race color for the televising of the famed Dixie Handicap at Pimlico this Saturday.

Noted race caller Fred Caposella will describe the actual running of the Dixie over the Columbia Broadcasting System's eastern regional network.

Katona, Stacy In 'Horne Race

LANGHORNE, Pa.—Iggy Katona, three-time MARC late model stock car champion and the man he beat out by a scant six points for the title, Nelson Stacy, were among the first to enter the 250-mile National championship for late models and scheduled for the Langhorne Speedway, Sunday, May 18.

Katona, a resident of Lambertville, Mich., won the late model title in 1955-56 and '57. It was not until the final race of the season that the MARC title was decided. Driving as a relief driver at Dayton, Ohio, Katona annexed six points to successfully defend his laurels. The veteran campaigner will be driving a 1958 Ford in the classic. His pit crew is headed by his son Jimmy, who also acts as his chief mechanic. Katona came to midgeut auto and sprint racing as well as the popular sport of stock car racing.

Brown TKOs Dupas In 8th Round

HOUSTON, Tex. (U) — Joe Brown defended his world's lightweight championship Wednesday night by beating Ralph Dupas of New Orleans on a technical knockout in the eighth round.

Dupas actually was knocked out but the referee let the fight go on when the New Orleans fighter arose. The referee, Jimmie Webb, said he thought there had been only a 9-count.

Brown's second, Bill Gore, tried to tell the referee what had occurred. Twice more Brown, the little champion from Baton Rouge, La., knocked Dupas down. The third time, when he rose after an 8-count, the referee stopped the fight. It was ruled a technical knockout in 2:21 of the eighth round.

It was Brown's fourth defense of his title in 16 months and the fourth straight knockout. The little Negro, who has been champion since August 1956 was well ahead on points at the time of the technical knockout. He had started slowly, using only his left, and it was the fourth round before Brown decided to go with his right.

All the time he had thrown up a virtually impregnable defense. But it was left hooks that took care of Dupas in the fatal eighth.

Can't Throw

"Oh, it's not the eye," Score said quickly. "It's perfectly all right now. It's my arm. I just can't throw."

"There's nothing permanent about it," said Score. "At least, that's what trainer Wally Bock told me. All I know is that right now it hurts and I can't throw."

Score described the injury as a pulled tendon in his left forearm. He suffered the injury in a game against Washington last week.

"It began in the eighth inning when I felt a sharp pull in my forearm while making a pitch," he explained. "At first I thought it was merely a muscle knot and I wasn't worried."

Knew When To Quit

"Then strange things happened in the ninth. I got Eddie Yost to pop up. How I don't know. Then little Albie Pearson singled and I walked Roy Sievers. I pitched two balls to Julio Bequer, the second one bounced in front of the plate. That was enough for me. I knew it was time to quit."

Braves Clobber Cardinals, 9-2

ST. LOUIS (U) — Milwaukee jumped to a six-run first inning lead last night and completed a series sweep with a 9-2 victory over the last-place St. Louis Cardinals.

The hits included two doubles and a single by Stan Musial, whose league-leading average went up to .529.

Pimlico Shuns 3/4 Horse Races

BALTIMORE (U) — Pimlico discontinued horse races at three quarters of a mile Wednesday at the insistence of jockeys.

The riders protested the angle at which the starting chute enters the main track is dangerous. Pimlico had to angle the chute on the backstretch because it doesn't have enough adjacent property to set it up straightaway.

In conceding to the jockeys, Pimlico reduced all races scheduled for three quarters of a mile to 5 1/2 furlongs for the remainder of its spring meeting ending May 17.

TIME—1970 (give or take a few years).
Subject—Area scholastic football and basketball subjects.
Palmerston at Stroudsburg, 4 p. m.
Bangor at East Stroudsburg, 4 p. m.
Pocono Twp. at Chestnut Hill, 8 p. m.

The above, in the Mountaineers and Cavaliers case, could be a football or basketball slate. For Pocono it, naturally, would mean basketball (however, they may have football on their sports agenda by '70).

What we're driving at is that the schoolboys may forsake arc-light grid tilts and night court games by the time the year '70 rolls around.

There have been many critical remarks about scheduling schoolboy football and basketball games at night. One big cry against evening athletics is that it tends to aid juvenile delinquency, giving the teen-ager an opening to fall into grip of some illegal movement. Like the newspaper which shouts, "All the news happens at night," so it is with crime which gets its biggest boost under the cover of darkness.

A few days ago Bethlehem High School abandoned night football after reaping the financial harvest for many years with the arc-light sport.

Liberty High (Bethlehem) officials and the city's school board had been toying with the idea for more than three years. Vandalism, petty theft and immoral practices were the sparks that set Bethlehem's hierarchy toward the abolishment of night grid games.

The move by one of the biggest schools in District 11 of the Pennsylvania Athletic Association (only Allentown is larger) may be the start of a maneuver which will ignite all other schools in the Lehigh Valley and elsewhere.

Education's high brass long have thought that night athletic contests were more or less for the birds. Besides the delinquency angle, they said, the move under the arcs tends to bring out fanfare that often took away some of the actual benefits of reading and writing.

But, the switch to night games in both football and basketball and now baseball, had its compensations. The coffers of the school treasury were enriched a hundred-fold with the almost two-to-one attendance of adults over students.

Football, via the night stints, more times than not paid the freight for other sports. But in doing so, the sport, more times than not, was taken from the students and put in the hands of the unknown adults. By their constant presence at the turnstiles, the adult actually governed the way the sport blew.

The same is true in basketball where the adult (it is hard for him to come out for daylight duels because of employment) out-attends generally the student at most games.

Educators, now more than ever, are bonding together to get scholastic sporting events played in the afternoons. Like one principal said to me, "The same way it was back in the old days."

While the action has only hit Bethlehem High in football at the present, there is a wave of undercurrent which suggests that the switch to daylight is not far off for many schools.

Sports, they claim, is getting out of hand, and juvenile delinquency is far out of proportion. Steps, they feel, must be taken to curb or extinguish these problems.

As one asserted, "abandonment of games in the evening and giving them back to the school in the daytime would be a strategic switch in the right direction."

From a loose survey here and afar, pin-pointing 1970 as a year for the "reformation" of athletics may not be too far wrong, give or take a few years.

51 Sites For Qualifiers
In Junior Golf Play

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Golf Assn. junior amateur championship, which is taking its place as one of the biggest amateur golf events, will require 51 qualifying locations this year to determine the 128 competitors for the main event.

The tournament proper — the 11th run by the USGA for boys under 18, will be played over the University of Minnesota course, Minneapolis, July 30-Aug. 2. It's a match play affair with all matches at 18 holes.

No club affiliation is necessary for entry in the junior amateur or the girls' junior championships, conditions for which also were released Wednesday by the USGA. They're both open to any amateur who will not reach his or her 18th birthday before midnight of the final day of the tournament.

In addition, contestants in these two tournaments are permitted to receive expense contributions from recognized golf associations or individual members of such organizations, as long as the sources are not commercial.

The girls' junior championship will be played at the Greenwich (Conn.) Country Club Aug. 11-15. There is no sectional qualifying for the girls event.

Entries for the junior close June 27 and for the girls' July 25 at USGA headquarters in New York.

The boys' junior tournament drew a record 1,060 entries last year when it was played at Norbeck, Md. It has grown steadily from the 496 entries who played in the first tournament in 1948.

Soviet Lifters
Leave For U.S.

LONDON (AP)—A formidable Russian weightlifting team, including two Olympic champions and six world champions, left Moscow by plane Wednesday for a three-meet series in the United States. The Russians will oppose American strongmen at Chicago May 12, Detroit May 15 and New York May 17.

Moscow Radio said the seven-man team included bantamweight Vladimir Stogov; featherweight Evgeni Minaev; lightweight Vladimir Bushuev; middleweight Fyodor Bogdanovsky; light heavyweight Trofim Lokakin; middle heavyweight Arkadi Vorobyev and heavyweight Alexei Medvedev.

Bogdanovsky and Vorobyev won Olympic titles at Melbourne in 1956. With the exception of Bogdanovsky, all are current world champions.

NBA executives meeting here disclosed Wednesday they have received bids from about a dozen groups for franchises in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Discussion was tabled until the next meeting at the all-star game in Detroit in the latter part of January.

Westward Ho For NBA Fives
NEW YORK (AP)—The Westward Ho movement may extend to the pro National Basketball Assn. before long. Not this year but for possibly the year after.

NBA executives meeting here disclosed Wednesday they have received bids from about a dozen groups for franchises in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Discussion was tabled until the next meeting at the all-star game in Detroit in the latter part of January.

Is Postponed

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—Undeclared Kutztown leads the Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Baseball Conference. Kutztown, which has never won a STC title in any sport since the conference was organized in 1951, is in good position to dethrone East Stroudsburg as the 1958 baseball champion.

However, four other teams each with only one loss may be able to overcome Kutztown before the season closes May 17. Shippensburg, conqueror of mighty West Chester, presents the utmost threat to the Reading Countians. Shippensburg plans to play a double-header at Kutztown on Friday.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers game with Kutztown, slated for yesterday, was postponed because of bad weather.

Play Monday
The Warriors and Golden Avalanche hope to make up the game next Monday on the Normal Hill field, starting at 3 p. m.

Standings

(West Chester with one and one record is not listed in standings as it does not play required minimum of four STC games.)

Stock Cars

Rain Sunday

Stock cars from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will attempt for the third time to open the 1958 racing season at the Nazareth, Pa., Fairgrounds this coming Sunday afternoon, May 11—2:15 p. m.

The famous half-mile track, rebuilt during the winter, has been rained-out twice, and this coming Sunday, Mother's Day, has been designated by Promoter Jerry Fried as "Official Opening Day."

More than 40 modified and sportsman stock cars from the three states have been waiting for the opening green flag, including Easton's Otto Harvel, 1955-56-57 champion; Sonny Strupp, South Plainfield, N. J., the favored driver to take over Harvel's crown; Al Tansady and Frank Smith, star New Jersey pilots, and others from tracks in NY-NJ-PA.

Expanded Pit Area
Nazareth's racing plant will feature an expanded pit area in 1958, new starting lanes, a splendid lighting system, and a new starter — Tex Enright, who is a Cherokee Indian, living at Paterson, N. J.

Promoter Fried is anxious to start the stock car events due to the pressure of a busy schedule, which will include United Race Club sprint cars on Memorial Day afternoon, May 30. The Nazareth management will recheck the track this Saturday to make ready for the long hoped for opening races.

Church Airs Plans For Renovation

CHERRY VALLEY — The proposed renovation of the front of the Cherry Valley Methodist Church was discussed by the Official Board as its May meeting at Greenview Guest Farm. Thomas Rogers led the discussion and displayed a drawing of the proposed improvement. The board voted to invite someone expert in the work to meet with the group at its next meeting, June 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Keiser.

New Chairs
Harold Dennis reported that the new chairs for the Sunday School had arrived. Rev. C. Clyde Levergood said the name plates had been placed in all the hymnals and that the new record book had arrived.

Rogers was appointed to supervise the placing of top soil on the church lawn. The board also gave a dramatic reading on Sunday, May 18.

Attending the meeting were Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Keiser, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dennis, Mrs. Gertrude Nunn, Mrs. Ruth Heller, Misses Joan Armitage and Verna Blakoslee, Mrs. Jeanette Batory, Mrs. William Slutter and Jacob Hartman.

Earnings In Area Remain Unchanged

(Record Harrisburg Bureau)
HARRISBURG — Average earnings in the Monroe County area last month remained virtually unchanged from the previous month, the State Department of Labor and Industry said today.

A department report shows that area workers during the past two months were averaging $76.86 a week. However, this represents a decrease of $3.31 from a year ago when area workers were averaging $80.17 a week.

(Interestingly, the statewide drop in earnings from a year ago averaged $3.30 a week.)

Stable
Average hourly earnings in the area last month also remained stable when compared with the preceding month — $2.10. This is an increase of six cents an hour from the $2.04 average a year ago.

The average 36.6 weekly hours worked in the area stayed the same as the previous month but dropped 2.7 hours from a year ago.

Statewide there was a reduction of 2.3 hours in the average workweek from a year ago.

Bad Weather Plagues Crops
PHILADELPHIA — Farmers in southeastern Pennsylvania last year are now concerned for their crops because of too much rain.

Rainfall has been above average for each month of the year and the surplus now totals nearly five inches.

MISSILES—Virtually all of the missiles under present control of the United States Army will be on display during "Tobyhanna Days", today, tomorrow and Saturday. They come in all shapes and sizes. (U. S. Army Photo)

Atomic Radiation, Missiles, Aircraft To Highlight 'Tobyhanna Days' Displays

VISITORS TO the Tobyhanna Days exhibits in Stroudsburg today through Saturday will have an opportunity to see how the United States Army is preserving foods with atomic radiation. Still experimental, the process holds enormous potential in providing logistical support and eliminating the need for front line refrigeration. The exhibit also highlights the Army's family of missiles and features a model of the famed Redstone, main stage of the Jupiter-C rocket used in the launching of the nation's first earth satellite. Also included in the missile model set are scaled-down reproductions of the deadly Nike Ajax, surface-to-air missile, and the operational ballistic missile Corporal. The Reserve Forces Act is explained in one phase of the exhibit and is designed to help young men of draft age acquire a better knowledge of the Army Reserve program. Animated scale models of Army light aircraft and a display of personal infantry weapons, such as the new lightweight M-14 rifle, are also included. Another exhibit tells of the Army's role in disaster relief.

Eiler Speaks On Sports At Stroudsburg Lions' Meeting

THE STROUDSBURG Lions Club, meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Tuesday night, heard fellow Lion John Eiler tell how sports compared to life outside the sports-world.

Eiler is an instructor and coach of soccer at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. He is past president of the National Association of Soccer Teams, and was one of seven men chosen by the United States to represent this country at a European Sports Conference.

The speaker matched up sports endeavors with everyday living and the successes and failures in life. He showed how a person's make-up, his personality and idiosyncrasies, carry with him throughout life.

He explained that great athletes are not made from work and sweat alone, from spirit alone, from stamina alone or from good coaching. It must be from a happy blending of all these factors.

Sketches Lives Eiler sketched the lives of some of the greats of the sports world, telling of the physical handicaps which they had to overcome.

Lion President J. Joseph McCluskey reported that to date there were 1,712 reservations for the Pennsylvania State Convention of Lions Clubs. The Stroudsburg club will be host to the 800 odd clubs in the state. The annual meeting is to take place at Camp Tamiment on June 8, 9 and 10.

At the May 13 meeting, a film of the Miller Open Golf Tournament will be shown.

Cubs Tour Post Office

DINGMAN'S FERRY — Recently the Cubs of Den One, Dingmans Ferry Pack 75, with their den mother, Mrs. June Wentworth, visited the Dingmans Ferry Post Office.

Calling at a time when there was the least amount of activity, the Cubs were shown all through the Post Office by acting postmistress Elsie Bensley.

They observed the operation of a post office from the time a letter, a package or a newspaper is dropped in the mail slot until it is packed in its proper mail bag for shipment.

After their visit, the Cubs expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Bensley for taking the time to talk to them, and thanked Postmaster Norman B. Gregory of East Stroudsburg for giving official permission for the visit.

Dial Work Half Finished In Slate Belt

BANGOR — More than 50 per cent of the telephones in the Bangor Exchange have now been changed over to new dial instruments in the pre-dial conversion work now in full swing throughout the Bangor area, A. W. Ryder, Commonwealth district manager, stated yesterday.

In conjunction with installation of the new dial instruments the complete rewiring of the subscribers' premises is involved.

Other work attendant on the Bangor dial conversion is also proceeding at a constant pace.

On Jan. 21 new cable additions from Bangor to Ackermanville and on toward Belfast were begun. This addition will provide regrades for telephone subscribers and facilities for new applicants in the Ackermanville area.

Additional Facilities Cable additions from Bangor to Flicksville and open wire lines from Flicksville south toward Martin's Creek were begun on March 24 and will be completed within the next two weeks. This will provide additional facilities in the Flicksville-Martin's Creek area.

Ryder pointed out also that, on April 14, work was started on new cable facilities from Bangor to East Bangor and east toward Mount Bethel as far as Five-Points and into Johnsonsville.

The Bangor engineering staff is also working on projects in the Borough of Roseto, upper Bangor, and central Bangor.

Ryder said that installation of the switchboard distributing frames and the dial switching equipment in Commonwealth's new district office will begin on May 20.
